

Media, cultural studies, history and memory

- The history of media, as well as the representation of the past and the present.
- Film and television culture, fandom, and cinephilia.
- The political uses of media.
- Media and freedom of expression, information, and the press, both in the past and the present.
- Media and social inequalities.
- Media and cultural studies.